Both the Legislative and the Bestelency Ap-propriation Bills Passed by the House— The Fisheries Retailation Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 1,-- The House met at 10 o'clock in continuance of Monday's session. On motion of Mr. Belmont of New York the Senate amendments to the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation bill were non-concurred in and a conference ordered.

On motion of Mr. Townshend of Illinois the bill making appropriations for the payment of Mexican pensions was taken up and passed. It appropriates $2,300,000 for the remainder of the current fiscal year and $4,600,000 for the next fiscal year.

Mr. Willis of Kentucky presented the conference report on the River and Harbor Appropriation bill, and, on demand of Mr. Andern of Kansas, the bill was read in extenso. The conference report was agreed to-yeas,

Mr. O'Neil of Pennsylvania presented a petition of the Universal Peace Union against ap-propriations for fortifications and war vessels.

Mr. Burnes of Missouri moved to suspend rules and pass the Deficiency Appropriation bill, and another hour was consumed in the reading of this measure.

Mr. Cannon of Illinois said that if the bill were up for consideration in the ordinary way he would move to recommit it. It was not beore the House upon a report that was either proper or courteous to the minority of the committee. Yesterday for the first time he saw the report. It had never been submitted to the committee, but if it emanated from any person but the gentleman from Missouri (Mr. Burnes) he was ignorant of that fact. The bill appropriated about $3,500,000, and in the main he concurred in its recommendations. It was conspicuous for what was not in it. It omitted an appropriation of $2.000,000 for services rendered by the Central Pacific Railroad Company over the 2.000 miles of its leased line which the Supreme Court had held was due and payable by the Government. He was not here to make a plea for the Central Pacific, but only to call attention to the fact that notwithstanding this decision of the highest tribunal in the land, the Committee on Appropriations, excreising a sovereign power to repudiate the obligations of the Government, had refused to make an appropriation. The report of the committee stated that in the suit upon which the judgment was rendered the equittes were not presented. The case had been propared by the Democratic Attorney-General, and if that officer by fraud, collusion, or ignorance failed to do his duty, the gentleman from Missouri should have moved articles of impeachment.

Mr. Burnes of Missouri, in response to Mr. Cannon's criticism, said that as far as the obligations of the Government were concerned, he would never vote to repudiate them; but he contended that while the Central Pacific owed the Government $60.000,000, the Government had the right to take the $2.000,000 and hold it in the Treasury to the credit of the company, and it was easy to turn to facts and circumstances that, before a jury, would convict overy member of that corporation who had participated in its management for the last ten years, of conduct that would make him better fitted for the cell of a prison house than for the chamber of the statesman.

The motion to suspend the rules was agreed to, and the bill was passed, with an amendment appropriating $27,000 for printing and inishing additional silver certificates and legal tender notes of the denominations of one and two dollars. conspicuous for what was not in it. It omitted an appropriation of $2,000,000 for services rentwo dollars.

Mr. Holman of Indiana moved to suspend the rules and put upon its passage the Legislative Appropriation bill as amended by the Committee of the Whole—as far as considered by that body—and with certain other amendments indicated by him.

The rules were then suspended and the bill passed—138 to 44.

Mr. Belmont of New York presented the conference report on the Fisheries Retalilatory bill, announcing a disagreement. Mr. Belmont said that it was a matter of public notoriety that a report had been made to the Senate in which it was stated that the differences between the House and Senate upon this question were irreconcilable. The majority of the House conferrees regretted that gentlemen representing the other body should have reached such a conclusion.

Mr. Rice of Massachusetts said that there had been a declaration made in the Senate that the differences between the two Houses were irreconcilable, and he thought that he agreed in that declaration. In the statement prepared by the majority of the House conferrees in explanation of their position, it was said that the Senate bill excluded nothing but Canadian fish. That was a mistake. The bill authorized the President under certain conditions to exclude rolling stock, locomotives, and railroad trains. That was where the irreconcilable difference existed. The Senate conferrees said absolutely and positively "no" to the consideration of Bridge bills.

A large number of bills were passed at the evening session authorizing the construction of bridges, among them that across East River between New York and Long Island.

The House then adjourned.

While the journal of yesterday was being read, Mr. Edmunds had three occasions of proving that he was still determined to "insist on the regular and orderly transaction of business," and not to yield to any effort to hurry up proceedings. First, Mr. Cameron moved to dispense with the reading of the journal, and then Mr. Hale asked leave to interrupt the reading, in order to have the Naval Appropriation bill referred to the Committee on Appropriation bill referred to the Committee on Appropriations; and again, Mr. Sherman moved to dispense with the further reading of the journal, to all of which propositions Mr. Edmunds objected. And so the reading of the journal was proceeded with, occupying twenty minutes' time.

Mr. Hoar, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, reported, back the credentials of Senators Stockbridge of Michigan and Turpio of Indiana (together with the protest of the two Houses of the Indiana Legislature in the latter case), and moved that they be placed on file and the committee discharged from their further consideration. So ordered.

The Naval Appropriation bill was 'read the second time and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The Benate then, on motion of Mr. Sawyer, proceeded to the consideration of pension bills on the calendar. The lifty-seven pension bills on the calendar were passed in just twenty-five minutes! time on the calendar were passed in just twenty-five minutes time.

A conference was ordered on the Consular and Diplomatic bill, and Senators Allison, Hale, and Beck were appointed conferrees on the part of the Senate.

The conference report on the River, and and Beck were appointed conferrees on the part of the Senate.

The conference report on the River and Harbor bill was presented by Mr. McMillan, and explained. The bill, as it came from the House, originally appropriated, he said, $7,-468,000. As it passed the Senate it appropriated $10,620,000. As now reported from the conference committee it appropriated $9,918,500. The details of the changes were set out in a paper which he sent to the Clerk's desk and had read. The conference report was agreed to without discussion and without division.

The conference report on the Consular and Diplomatic bill was presented by Mr. Allison and agreed to without division.

The House bill for ascertaining and settling private land claims in New Mexico, Arizona, and Colorado was taken from the calendar.

Pending discussion the Senate took a recess until 8 o'clock.

When the Senate resumed its session in the evening the Deficiency bill was received from the House, read a first and second time (Mr. Edmunds not being present), and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The Senate took up the House bill for the allowance of certain claims reported by the accounting officers of the United States Treasury Department.

The bill covers ninety-three printed pages, giving the names of the several claimants, and the amount due to each, the majority being for small sums. They are chiefly for Quartermasters' and commissary stores, taken by the army during the war in Missouri, West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, end some portions of Tennessee—there having been some 58,000 such claims filed under the act of July 4, 1864.

Mr. Sherman denounced the law which required these small claims, after being allowed by the Treasury, to be passed upon by Congress—necessitating the employment of attorneys who exacted fees amounting to thirty, forty, and fifty per cent. He moved to strike out the amendment reported by the Committee on Claims, which makes the drafts payable to their attorneys or agents who have filed powers of attorney.

Mr. Harris moved to amend that provision so of alterney.

Mr. Harris moved to amend that provision so as to leave the Treasury Department to act in the matter of payment under its own rules and regulations.

Mr. Sherman assented, and the bill was so amended and was passed without division, and a conference was asked.

Ponding discussion the Legislative Appropriation bill was received from the House, read a dirst and second time (Mr. Edmunds not being present), and referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The Senate, at 11:45 P. M., adjourned.

THE RIG PORK DEAL Picking Up or Dropping Portunes on the Chicago Produce Exchange.

CHICAGO, March 1 .- Among the sufferers in the big pork deal the bucket shops have fared badly, three of the smaller concerns went broke, and! Murphy is said to have dropped $50,000. His losses here to his local traders were upward of $100,000, but half of this was offset by winnings made out of country trade. which shorted pork after it got up to $16. Pulsifer is said to have up $25,000 fwith a countryman on a freeze out on 25,000 barrels of pork. The price went up that dollar in less than two days, and the bucket shop man got the coun-tryman's money.

There were numerous lesser incidents. One darky gambler named Scott pulled $35,000 out of the Imperial when the price yesterday was $19. Another named Irwin, whose profits in sight at that moment were double that sum, was wiped out an instant later when the drop from $19.30 to $16.80 came. For several min-utes after the opening on Change to-day there was no trade at all. Sellers asked $18: buyers bid only $17. In the first five min utes there were a few trades made, first at $17.50, then at $17.70, up to $19. The tites there were a few trades made, first at $17.50, then at $17.70, up to $19. The motive in the pit to-day was apparently to restore confidence, to settle the price at about $18 until the world was accustomed to it, and then, when that is done and the trading is active, to advance it a peg or two further. At times there was almost a ceassation of trading, and at other times the pit would crowd up with brokers packed as close as sardines, and the trades would cause the price to spring about between $18.50 and $19, with very little regard to fractions. After noon the bottom was $18.60. There were plenty of brokers to protect it at that figure in any quantity, but pork really needed very little protection. There were tow sellers.

At 1 o'clock the close was at $18.67% for May, although the price within five minutes had been $19. Most of the purchases were supposed to be for bucket shops that had now begun to hedge. The gossip was that the Cinchnati clique had tried to form a coalition with the other cliques which are long on wheat, with a proviso that the whole speculation should be put into one man's hands. The attempt, it was said, hadnot succeeded. There were enormous clearances for the seaboard, over 520,000 bushels of wheat, and they caused the early strength, but the very warm weather and the promise of still warmer weather made sellers of everybody except the clique.

Roam, Jones, Cudahy, and Brega all talked in selling mood. Brega predicted that 70 cents would be touched before 80 cents was. There was considerable weakness in Duluth, where the weather was even warmer than here. Hutchinson was the largest seller at the the weather was even warmer than Hutchinson was the largest seller at the

WORK IN COMMITTEE.

Arguments on the Electrical Subway Bills-

ALBANY, March 1 .- The Senate Cities Committee heard arguments to day on the New York Elec-trical Subway bills. Assistant Corporation Counsel Scott stated that the present Commission had discharged its duties satisfactorily and had in operation two miles of conduit. The question now arose, Shall the city own the conduits or shall it lease them of a corporation? The present Commission had made a contract with the corporation, and their bill in effect asked the Legislature to validate Metropolitan Telephone Company already controlled the Conduit Construction Company. It was against public policy to put conduits into the hands of monopoly. They should be public highways. He submitted Mayor Hew. itt's bill creating the Board of Estimate and the Com missioner of Public Works as an Electrical Subway mmission. Subway Commissioner Gibbens supported the Com-lectorers' bill.

Washington, March 1 .- The National Councii of the National Union League met to-day and elected these officers: Gen. Charles H. Groavenor, President; Vice-Presidenta, William E. Chandier, C. A. Boutelle, James B. Negley, Nathan Goff, J. E. O'Hara, L. C. Houck, B. K. Bruce, Thomas R. Bich, Lewis McKenzie, authorized the President to exclude all Canadian products from the American markets. The House bill went just a step further and authorized the President under certain conditions to exclude rolling stock locomotives, and railroad trains. That was where the irreconcilable difference existed. The Beante conference said absolutely and positively "no" of he House proposition.

Pending action the House took a recess till o'clock, the evening session to be devoted to he consideration of Bridge bills.

BOYCOTTERS OF POOL BEER.

The Movement Begins Gradually and Not With a Unanimous Rush. The boyeott of pool beer declared by the Retailers' Association went formally into effect yesterday, and the placard "No Pool Beer Sold Here—Down with Monopoly," was sent around to be posted in the saloons of such members of the association as decide to change their brew-ers. The Executive Committee of the retailers spent the day among the members of the association arranging for the supply of non-pool beer to those who wish to change. Secretary George J. Kraus was busy all day receiving applications for non-pool beer and writing letters introducing the retailers to brewers who would supply it. Most of these letters were to James Everard, George Bechtel, Jacob Ahles, the Enterprise Brewing

"It is not our intention to make a grand stampede" said Mr. Kraus. "We shall change our beer gradually. Many of our members are trying other beers now to see if they suit their trade, and will change as soon as they are satisfied with the new beer."

It was also said at the retailers' headquarters that a strong pressure would be brought to bear on Henry Clausen, David Yuengling, Bendleston & Woerz, Philip & William Ebling, and Abbott, all of whom brew both ale and pager, to force them out of the pool by refusing to take their ale.

Herr Seidl's Farewell Concert.

Herr Seldl made his exit from the New York concert stage last night amid the enthusinstic plaudits of one of the largest audiences that ever was in Steinway Hall. It was his farewell concert, and this unusually brilliant nudlence had doubtless been attracted as much by a desire to honor this sterling musician by a desire to honor this sterling musician as by the interesting programme. The concert opened with the "Erolea" Symphony, which was revealed to us in new beauty by Herr Seidl at his concert last year. Then Mr. Baermann gave a musicianly and sympathetic intepretation of Schumann's piano concerto. This was followed by a performance of Beethoven's "Coriolanus" overture, which was full of dramatic energy and power. Next Frau Seidl Krauss and Fraulein Brandt sang delightfully four charming Iduets entitled "Sounds from Moravia," by Dvorak. The concert closed with an almost overwhelmingly powerful performance of Wagner's "Kaisermarsch."

Thomas Popular Concert.

At last night's Thomas Popular Concert at the Metropolitan Opera House a new "Festival Polonaise" by Svendsen was played. It is a composition in which brilliancy and gracefulness alternate pleasantly. The other orchestral pieces were Mendelssohn's rippling "Hebrides" overture, Dvoraks's quaint "Legend," and the brilliant ballet music from Rubinstein's "Nero,"

Miss Margulles played Liszt's first concerto in a manner which showed that steady progress in her art which has distinguished her efforts from year to year.

THE LANGUAGE OF FINANCE.

Puts, Calls, Spreads, and Straddles Clearly Explained by a Master,

"Of the fifty or sixty millions of people in this country," Mr. John E. McCann, private secretary to the Hon. Bussell Sage, said yester-day, "few know the correct definition of 'puts, calls," spreads, and 'straddles," Mr. McCan then clearly described for the benefit of THE Sun's readers the peculiar methods of stock speculation which are not recognized as legitimate transactions by the Governors of the Stock Exchaege.

A privilege is a contract by which the maker of it—Russell Sage, S. V. White, or Jumes R. Keene (in the old days before Mr. Keene failed) engages to purchase from the holder in the one case, or to sell to the holder in the other case, a number of shares of some specified stock, at a certain price, at any time within a certain period at the option of the holder.

A "call" is a privilege bought of the maker at a certain price, and the owner of it is privileged to call for a certain amount of stock at a certain period at the option of the holder.

A "call" is a privilege bought of the maker at a certain price, and the owner of it is privilege deto call for a certain amount of stock at a given price within thirty, sixty, or ninety days, or four or six months.

If a man holds a "put" he has the right to deliver to the maker of the privilege a stock at a certain agreed price within a certain number of days. For instance, suppose western Union is selling at 70. A man wants a sixty-day "put" on it at 66, because he believes the stock is going down. He gives Mr. Sage, Mr. Whito, or Mr. Koene I per cent. of the amount of stock he wants to deal in. A hundred shares is usual, and I per cent. is $100. He receives in return a slip of paper signed by either one or the other of these gentlemen. Then if Western Union goes below 66 within sixty days, he may buy it for whatever it is selling for below that price and "put" it to the maker of the privilege at the price agreed on—66—and receive a check for $6,600; the holder makes the difference, If Western Union does not go below 66, the holder of the written slips or "put" is out his $100.

The "call" business operates in exactly the other way. You buy the privilege of cailing Western Union at 75 when it is selling at 70. If it sells above 75 you can call on the maker of the privilege for a hundred shares at 75, and the hundred shares are thus bought by the holder for $7,500, and he turns around and sells it at 80 if the stock is selling at that price, and pockets the difference.

A "straddle" is a "put" and "call " combined. The holder of one may "put" stock to the maker of the privilege or "call for it. That class of privilege comes high, because there is money in it whichever way the market may go. If the market joes not go at all, but stands still, the maker is in the money he has been paid for the privilege usually about 3 per cent. A "spread" is also a "put and "call" combined, but there is this difference: A "straddle" is made at the market for the privilege can put the Tobacco Raising in South Carolina.

Columbia, S. C., March 1.—A year ago the Acricultural Department, impressed by the fact that constant failures of cotton, the only money crop, were reducing many farmers to powerly, determined to experiment with tobacco. Farmers were appointed in every county and paid to make experimenta, a premium being offered for the best sample. The samples were sent in, and E. M. Pacce of Danville, Va. a tobacco expert, has just examined them and awarded the prizes. Darlington, Richland, and Lancaster counties won first, second, and third prizes. Mr. Pacce says the best tobacco is as fine as he ever saw, and cannot be surpassed; that the average is better than usual experimenters produce, It was never known before that tobacco ould be raised in this State, which now has a new future before her. Washington's Cat Doctor.

There is a cat doctor who runs a drug store in Washington who, it is said, is doing the most thriving practice of any alleviator of the ills of the feine and canine races of any man in his profession in the whole country. This physician has the highest class of callers of any professional man in the city, as only the most artstocratic can afford to have an expert wait upon their pets. At times as many as three or four carriages a function of the real pets. At times as many as three or four carriages a functional capital are drown up in front of the drug store and office, and his business is so large that customers with their patients have to wait their turns, like men in barber shops. It is seldom that a man enters the drug store or office for the purpose of receiving a professional call from the doctor. They are almost invariably women. The doctor was philosophizing resterday to some gentlemen on the general ails of cats and dogs, during which is stated that more trouble came from a lack of fresh aff and exercise than anything else. He especially deprecated the fact that these household pets were guarded so closely hin the house, and were not allowed to romp around like children.

"I could mame," he said, "families in this city that general as closely their pet cats and dogs as they do their craften. DOWN-TOWN GOSSIP.

Mr. John Smithers of C H. Smithers & Co. of the Sir. John Smithers of C. H. Smithers & Co. of the Stock Exchange said yesterday that the feeling in the street was momentarily bearish, through the fear that money would be tight, owing to the accumulations in the United States Treasury, and the transfer of money to the West to meet the April settlements. "There is a sound bull argument in the good railroad earnings," added Mr. Smithers, "but there is a feeling of uncer-tainty at the moment, which may last for thirty days," added MF. Sinthers, "out there is a teeing of days."

Other brokers in the street said that they had borrowed money during the day for all the year at 5 per cent, and attributed a good deal of the uneasiness to the frightful smash in Cotton Seed Oil Trust certificates.

He wont all the way to New Orleans five years ago to see Saillyan wallop Paddy ityan, and has seen all the hangings hereabouts in the last fitteen years. He returned yeaterday from the hanging of Mrs. Druse at Herkimer. He told of a citizen of the village saying to him after the hanging: "I suppose all you people will get away on the evening trains. Well. I wish there was a hanging here every day in the weskit makes business good." The old gentleman said that the remark greatly shocked him.

As good an authority on Cotton Seed Oll Trust certificates has been due simply to a fight between Phil Armour and the company, and not to any belief that Mr. Armour is to start another company, though, of course, the reports to that effect have materially assisted the decline. Mr. Armour was a director in the present cates (they were 67 a month or so ago) because the advance in them hurt him as a maker of lard. About 50 per cent. of stearine is now extracted from cotton seed oil went the more it cost Mr. Armour to make lard, though he was not receiving correspondingly better prices for his lard. He broke with the company, and with Mr. Addison Cammack as his New York ally, has precipitated the decline. Wall street.

It was said yesterday by an expert in such matters that the days of the tow boys and tow horses on the Eric Canal are approaching an end. He said: "There are more boats building this winter along the canal than have been built any winter for the last eight years. They will all be ready for the opening of navigation on May I. From indications many more steam canni boats will be used this sammer. They will push one boat and to two besides earrying a cargo. The mule boats are gradually secoming extinct."

The receipts at the Custom House for 1886 were over $5,000,000 larger,than in 1877, and only in 1882 were last year's receipts exceeded. As an indication of the char acter of the money in circulation last year, the Custom House receipts included $52,727 gold coin, $53,413 silver coin, $6,723,000 gold certificates, $1,323,000 silver certifi-cates, and $1,970,345 in United States Treasury notes or greenbacks. She salaries paid during the year in the Custom House represent 12 per cent. of the receipts, or nearly $1,333,033.

A Yale alumnus and a member of the Stock Exchange A Yale alumnus and a member of the Stock Exchange who attended the alumni reunion of his college in Deimonico's the other night, spoke yesterday of the courtesy which marked the conduct of Mr. Chaunesy M. Depew, President of the Vale Alaumi. "Mr. Depew hasn't smoked in a number of years," the alumnus said, "and he was placed in a peculiar position at the reunion. He was practically the host, and as he entered the hall he saw that about ever mother's son of an alumnus wanted to smoke. They held cirars ready to be lighted, but did not high term as they saw Mr. Depend alumnus wanted to smoke. They held cirars ready to be highted, but did not light them, as they saw Mr. Depew with no cigar, and apparently with no intention of smoking. Mr. Depew borrowed a cigar, put it between his lips unlighted, and in a moment the alumni had their cigars lighted and were smoking away at a great rate." The Yale alumnus and stock broker thought all non-smoking hosts should follow Mr. Depew's example.

the past week were unusually large, making a total for the year thus far in excess of the figures of a year ago. The large shipments of wheat encourage the belief that the export figures will continue to make a favorable showing, now that our foreign commerce is uninterrupted by labor troubles. The movement of prices was far from uniform; some stocks, noticeably 8t. Paul. Eric. Union Pacific, Western Union, and Lake Shore, showing a great deal of firmness. During the last hour the entire list responded readily to the Washington advices that a called session of Congress might be avoided, and recovered to about the best prices, but a fresh attack upon the coal stocks made the final movement a downward one, so that the closing was at about the lowest prices. The important declines were few, and the average loss sustained by the active list less than 5 % cent.

LIFTING THE DARK SHADOW

"About two years ago I wrote you a short note setting forth in substance my wife's suffering from chills and fever, and her recovery through the use of Kaskine. "I write again at this date to add material details is "I write again at this date to add material details it her case which were omitted in the haste of penning my first letter. Previous to the spring of 1885 she had suffered for two years with a most pronounced type of Fever and Ague, or Intermittent Malarial Fever. During all this time her life was one of exceptional misery, from the fact that the periodical attacks of the disease were of the severest and most distressing nature. Her naturally strong constitution was racked and undermined to an alarming extent.

"She frequently took quinine in doses of FORTY GRAINS AT A TIME." The troubles and disorders arising from the prolonged.

GRAINS AT A TIME.

"The troubles and disorders arising from the prolonged use of quinine intensified the poor patient's wretched condition. It caused a territe headache, ringing in the ears, and other signs of quinine poisoning. I whenled mention that in the course of the treatment arsenio and other powerful anti-zynotic drugs were prescribed. This sort of thing was continued until we almost described a first.

"At this time my attention was called to the claims made for Kaskine as a germicide, or destroyer of the germs which are now admitted to be the cause of all malarial diseases. She at once began the use of it, and we soon found it to be the God sent cure which we had hitherto sought for in vain. I say 'God sent,' for I be-lieve lie provides a cure for every disease—but for some reason of lits own leaves their discovery to human reason of a settle.

"To sum up: My wife was completely cured by Kaskine, not only of her original trouble, fever and ague, but also of the mischief that had been done by the quinting. She requests me to say that Kaskine lifted the dark shadow of malaria from her life, and that she is most grateful to 640d, who made the ingredients of Kaskine, and to you who distribute it to the sick and suffering." Very truly yours,
